

Grand opening of ZCB Hong Kong's First Zero Carbon Building

On 26 June 2012, The Construction Industry Council (CIC) announced the grand opening of ZCB, Hong Kong's first zero carbon building in Kowloon Bay.

ZCB is developed by CIC in partnership with the Government. It is a signature project to showcase the state-of-the-art eco-building design and technologies locally and internationally. The project will, on the one hand, serve as a platform for the construction industry to share knowledge and expertise in low carbon building design and technologies, and on the other hand, help to raise community awareness of sustainable living.

Building Journal will devote a cover story in the July 2012 issue on ZCB. CIC has supported this issue by providing valuable information for its publication. The article will be also uploaded on www.building.hk for international exposure.

BUILDING JOURNAL and www.building.hk provide building professionals with the latest building and construction news in Hong Kong, Macau and Mainland China. Combined online and offline readership exceeding 500,000 per month.
